CCH Employee, Ashley Strain, Receives Nebraska Hospital Association Scholarship

For Immediate Release

(COLUMBUS, Neb.) – Columbus Community Hospital (CCH) is proud to announce that its employee, Ashley Strain, is a recipient of a 2019 Nebraska Hospital Association Research and Educational Foundation (NHAREF) Undergraduate Health Care Career Scholarship.

The NHAREF offers the Undergraduate Health Care Career Scholarship Program for students interested in a career in health care. It is designed to encourage people to pursue careers in the field and support future health care leaders in their efforts to receive high-quality educations.

Scholarship applicants must have been employed by an NHA member hospital for at least one year and be enrolled in an accredited program leading to a bachelor's degree, certification or registration in a health care career. Approved academic programs, include, but are not limited to, nursing, radiological technology, clinical medical technology and physical therapy.

Strain is one of ten recipients who were selected to receive $1,500 for the academic year, which will be sent directly to her educational institution.

"We are very proud of Ashley's personal and professional growth and glad to have her on our team of highly skilled radiology staff who delivery high quality, compassionate care each and every day," said Mike Hansen, CCH president and CEO.
