Hospital accepting applications for medical laboratory scientist/technologist program

For Immediate Release

(COLUMBUS, Neb.) – Columbus Community Hospital is currently accepting applications for its medical laboratory scientist/technologist (MLS/MT) scholarship program. Once a student is accepted into the program, it will make payments on the student’s behalf for tuition, books and other education-related expenses.

To be eligible for this scholarship/program, an applicant must be:

- A resident of Columbus or the surrounding area, or
- Attending school in the Columbus area, or
- Currently enrolled in an accredited program that prepares individuals to sit for the MLS/MT national certification exams, i.e. ASCP.

Applications are due Sept. 30, 2021.

Preference will be given to applicants who are hospital employees or immediate family members of hospital employees.

For more information and a link to the application, visit www.columbushosp.org or contact Melinda Allen, employment and education coordinator, at 402-562-3363.
